“War Dogs of the Pacific” premieres to standing ovation at Doberman Centennial Show

October 16, 2008 – Topeka, Kansas

The Doberman Pinscher Club of America held a black tie gala to honor the service of the Marine Dog Handlers during World War Two. Ten of the original Marine handlers were in attendance and received a medal of freedom on behalf of the DPCA for their service. “War Dogs of the Pacific” was screened for the attendees and the film and its producer/director Harris Done received a standing ovation.

“I couldn’t be happier. To be able to screen the film for the handlers who appear in the film as well a packed house of real dog lovers was a dream come true. The response to the film was amazing. There were laughs and a lot of tears. It was a really emotional evening,” said the film’s director.
